FIVE ORGANS QIGONG

Levels I & III of Wisdom (Zhineng) Qigong

with Dashi Chu Kocica

China-certified Zhineng Qigong Instructor

Don't miss this opportunity to experience the remarkable healing power of Qi, and practice the same methods that cured Dashi's partial hearing loss at the world's largest Qigong hospital in China in 1997. Rated the #1 medical Qigong system by the China Sports Bureau, Wisdom Qigong has a 95% overall effective rate in healing over 180 different diseases, including arthritis, cardiovascular disease, diabetes, lupus and cancer.

Unlike western hospitals where patients are told to get plenty of rest, have surgery, take drugs or follow special diets, here the prescription for healing is "exercise, love and plenty of Qi." In China's "medicineless hospital," doctors and patients were replaced by teachers and "students," who are taking an active role in their recovery by learning powerful self-healing methods.

Level I: Healing in the Qi Field

Together we will create a "group healing Qi field" to access Qi from the Universe for our individual and collective healing and practice Lift Qi Up, Pour Qi Down, the foundation form of Wisdom Qigong system for daily practice and healing any kind of illness.

Level III: Five Organs Qigong for Emotional Healing

Rarely taught in the West, the third level of Wisdom Qigong utilizes Chinese Medicine Five Element Theory to promote internal health and balance emotions associated with the 5 Yin organs, the heart, spleen, lung, kidney and liver. Each of these organs play a key role in our health, and is associated with a particular emotion. The 5 Yin organ forms utilize precise movements, healing sounds, hand figures and visualizations to strengthen and normalize function.

At the same time they work on a profound level to heal and balance the emotions for spiritual transformation. The 13th and final form prepares the practitioner for the ultimate step: returning to the ONE beyond all duality, merging the individual Qi with the Universal Qi.
